

Tony Jimenez is the founder and President & CEO of MicroTech — America’s No. 1 Fastest-Growing Hispanic-Owned Business for an unprecedented second straight year. A trailblazer in Government Technology, Jimenez was named to the “Federal 100” (for the second time) — as an individual who significantly influences how the government buy, uses, and manages Information Technology.

Organizations like Deloitte, Ernst & Young, Hispanic Committee of Virginia, U.S. Small Business Administration, Virginia Hispanic Chamber, Washington Technology, National Small Business Association, Computer Reseller News, and U.S. Hispanic Chamber have all recognized his success. He has been profiled in publications like BusinessWeek, Inc. Magazine, American Legion, Veterans Business Journal, The Connection Newspapers, Washington Business Journal, Hispanic Business, and CRN Magazine.

Tony serves on the boards of leading trade groups, charity organizations, and media groups. His business is recognized as the Top Privately-Held Corporate Philanthropist in the Washington area. He is the National Chairman of Latinos in Information Sciences and Technology Association, an advocacy group promoting Latino technological and scientific engagement.
