Business Diversity: Minority- and Woman-Owned Firms

Fairfax County-based minority- and woman-owned firms routinely rank among the largest and fastest-growing companies in the Washington, D.C., region and the nation. Their growth is fueled in part by access to a large, highly educated workforce; proximity to the U.S. government (the world's largest technology buyer); successful partnerships with world-class business partners, including established federal prime contractors; and a sophisticated network of business, legal and financial services providers.
