

Ellen Gray, PWD, is the 7th person in the Commonwealth of Virginia to receive the Professional Workforce Developer (PWD) certification. Ellen is a passionate presenter and facilitator, bringing over 20 years of leadership in the management and workforce development industry. As a seasoned management consultant and trainer, she has focused her talents and energies on building and sustaining High Performance Teams and Organizations, management skills development, interpersonal communication, time management, and career services.